

Award Rubric

Poor (1)	Average (2)	Good (3)	(4) Excellent	Criterion
Demonstrates limited readiness in detecting problems and taking the initiative in proposing solutions.	Demonstrates adequate readiness in detecting problems and taking the initiative in suggesting solutions that might involve a deliberate risk.	Demonstrates sufficient readiness in detecting problems and taking the initiative in suggesting solutions that might involve a deliberate risk.	Demonstrates high readiness in detecting problems and taking the initiative in suggesting solutions that might involve a deliberate risk.	Initiation Weight 10%
Creative attributes are achieved at a limited level in thinking: sensitivity, fluency, flexibility and originality.	Creative attributes are achieved at an adequate level in thinking: sensitivity, fluency, flexibility and originality.	Creative attributes are achieved at a satisfactory level in thinking: sensitivity, fluency, flexibility and originality.	Creative attributes are achieved at a high level in thinking: sensitivity, fluency, flexibility and originality.	Creative Attributes Weight 40%
Suggested results and treatments are presented in segmented and ambiguous form.	The project outcomes address existing problems and needs in the local or global community in a rather limited way.	The project outcomes address existing problems and needs in the local or global community in a satisfactory way.	The project outcomes address existing problems and needs in the local or global community in an effective way.	The effectiveness of solutions Weight 30%
Demonstrates ineffectiveness in influencing the general environment in which he/she operates.	Demonstrates rather limited effectiveness in influencing the general environment in which he/she works (with his/her ideas, accomplishments, or interactions with others).	Demonstrates effectiveness in influencing the general environment in which he/she works (with his/her ideas, accomplishments, or interactions with others).	Demonstrates high effectiveness in influencing the general environment in which he/she works (with his/her ideas, accomplishments, or interactions with others).	Impact Weight 20%